※ 1: Although the product itself does not contain the ingredient, it is manufactured on the same production line as products that do (cross-contamination). Please be aware if you have severe allergies.

※ 2: Allergen and calorie information may change depending on suppliers, seasonal and regional factors, the use of substitute ingredients, recipe modifications, or preparation methods at each store.

※ 3: Since manufacturing facilities and stores also handle ingredients containing allergens not originally included in the product, there is a possibility that such substances may adhere to or be mixed into the product.

※ 4: Sensitivity to allergens varies by individual. We recommend consulting with a medical specialist and making your own final decision when purchasing or consuming the product.

※ 5: All fried items are prepared in the same fryer. In addition, there is a possibility of accidental cross-contact of allergens between products and ingredients during the cooking process.

※ 6: Nutritional and allergen information may vary depending on the selected main item and dressing.
